Dear Parent or Carer,

Height and weight checks for children in Reception and Year 6

Every year in England, children in Reception and Year 6 have their height and weight checked at school as part of the National Child Measurement Programme (NCMP). Your child's class will take part in this year's programme.

Why is NCMP important?

The data gained from NCMP, helps schools, health services and local authorities better plan for programmes, services, and resources to support families' physical and emotional health and wellbeing where it is needed most.

If you have concerns about your child's health or weight and would like further information or support, you may find the links below and support helpful:

What information is collected and why

Your child's height, weight, age, sex, and date of birth are collected to calculate their weight category (also known as child body mass index).

Your child's ethnicity and address are collected to monitor differences in child growth and weight between ethnic groups, where children live and their backgrounds.

Your child's name, date of birth and NHS number are collected to link their measurements from reception and year 6 to other information from health and education records held by NHS England, the Department of Health and Social Care and the Department for Education, where it is legal to do so.

Information about how personal information and data is collected and stored

You can read more about how the Department of Health and Social Care collects, stores and uses your child's information and data in the National Child Measurement Programme privacy notice.

You can read more about how NHS England collects, stores and uses your child's information and data at National Child Measurement Programme \(NCMP\): GDPR information.

At the NHS England National Child Measurement Programme webpage you can read more about:

- taking part in the programme
