*Award winning author
and comedy writer*

Would your child be interested.....?

We at Noremarsch are considering having a 6-week After School Story Writing Club run by award winning author and comedy writer Emily-Jane Clark and would like to know whether there would be enough interest to make this possible.

The club would give children the opportunity to develop their imagination and creativity while having fun writing their own stories.

We would appreciate if you would answer the short survey here!
